Bringing quality, flexibility and speed to your productions

Guaranteed broadcast-quality

By providing a comprehensive feature set and relying on intra-frame codecs, LiveCeption Pure guarantees broadcast-quality content and easy integration with post-production systems- all at a compelling price.

Perfectly adaptable

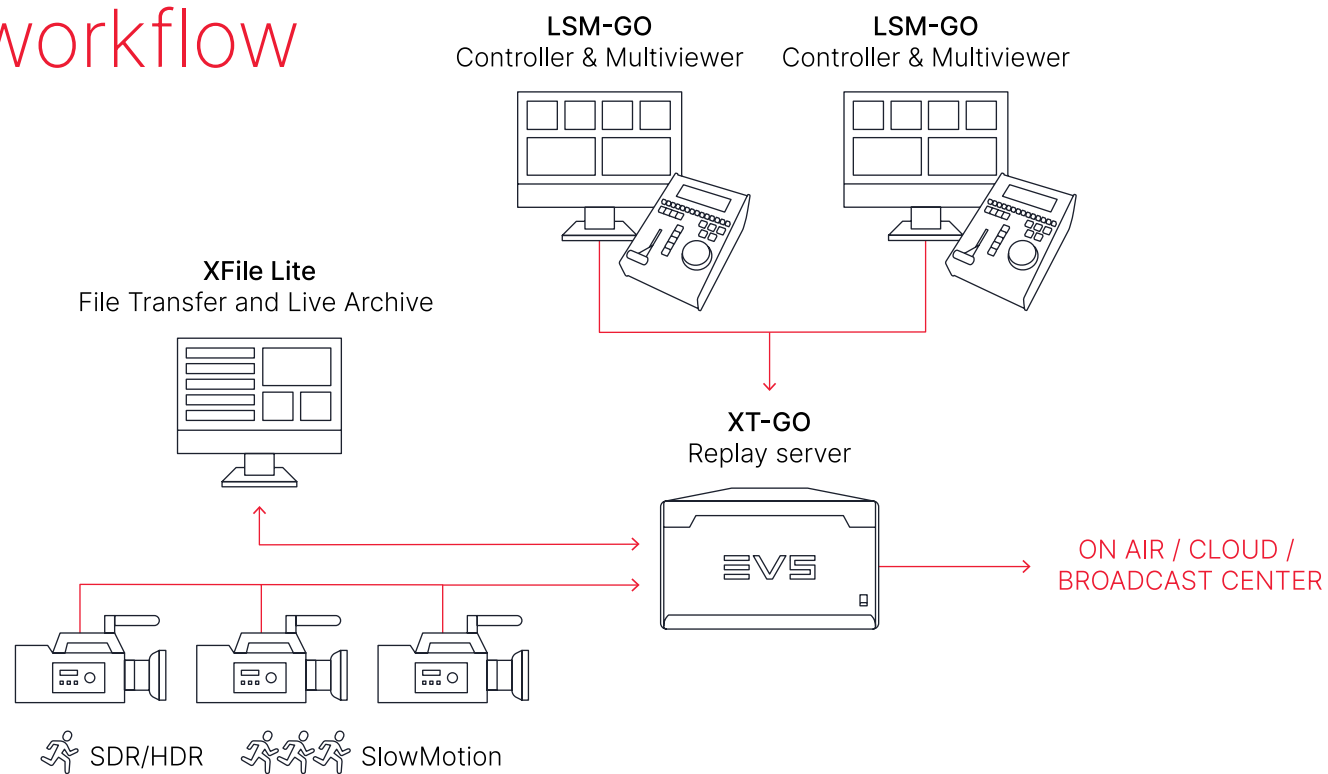

With flexible I/O configurations and hybrid SDI/IP connectivity, the LiveCeption Pure solution can be tailored to meet any production need, at any time. Start small and scale up easily thanks to flexible software licences that allow you to increase the number of channels or change the resolution according to your evolving production needs.

Easy, fast and efficient control

Create high-quality replays and highlights in the heat of the action and easily archive, transform and restore selected content during the live show. No need for extra training, users can hit the ground running thanks to the solution's intuitive interfaces and a controller that operators are familiar with.
