

END USER LICENSE AGREEMENT

(Thales - Sentinel)

This End User License Agreement (“EULA”) is entered into between EVS Broadcast Equipment SA, a company duly incorporated under Belgian law, with its registered office at Rue Bois Saint Jean, 13, 4102 Seraing, Belgium (“Company”), and the end user (“End User”).

This EULA governs End User’s use of the software components licensed from Thales (“Thales”) and embedded in or provided as part of the Product supplied by Company.

1. License Grant and Scope of Use

Subject to the terms and conditions of this EULA, Company grants End User a non-exclusive, non-transferable, non-sublicensable license to use the Software solely as part of the Combined Product and solely for the purposes for which the Combined Product is intended.

No rights are granted to use the Software on a standalone basis.

2. Copyright and Trademarks

The Product includes licensed software and/or services provided by Thales (“Thales Software”).

The license and/or entitlement management portion(s) of this Licensee Application is based upon one or more of the following copyrights:

Sentinel® RMS

© 2025 Thales

All rights reserved.

Sentinel® is a registered trademark of Thales.

The End User acknowledges that all intellectual property rights in and to the Thales Software are owned by Thales or its licensors.

The End User shall not remove, alter or obscure any copyright notices, trademarks or other proprietary legends and shall ensure that all authorized copies bear the same notices as the original.

3. Restrictions on Use

The End User shall not, and shall not permit any third party to:

- (a) license, sublicense, sell, resell, distribute or make available the Thales Software or services as a standalone product;
- (b) bundle the Thales Software with products or applications other than those expressly authorized;
- (c) rent, lease, assign, encumber or grant any security interest in the Thales Software;
- (d) modify, merge, create derivative works of, copy or reproduce the Thales Software, except as expressly permitted by applicable law;
- (e) reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble, translate, adapt or otherwise attempt to derive source code, algorithms or underlying ideas from the Thales Software;
- (f) circumvent or disable any technical or security measures;
- (g) use the Thales Software to develop or support competing products or services, or for competitive analysis;
- (h) publicly display, publish or otherwise disclose the Thales Software except as authorized;
- (i) export, re-export or import the Thales Software in violation of applicable export control laws; or
- (j) assist or enable any third party to engage in any of the foregoing prohibited activities.

4. Source Code

Where source code is provided by Thales, the End User shall not modify, distribute or use such source code except as expressly authorized.

All intellectual property rights in such source code remain with Thales.

Thales shall have no responsibility for any modifications made by or on behalf of the End User, nor any resulting damages, support or maintenance obligations.

5. No Sublicensing

Neither the End User nor any third party shall have any right to sublicense the Thales Software or resell related services as standalone offerings.

6. Compliance with Laws

End User shall comply with all applicable laws and regulations, including without limitation U.S. export control laws and regulations, in connection with its use of the Software.

7. No Warranties on Behalf of Thales

End User acknowledges and agrees that:

- Company makes no representations or warranties on behalf of Thales; and
- any warranties, if applicable, are provided solely in accordance with Company's agreement governing the Combined Product.

8. U.S. Government End Users

If End User is the U.S. Government or any agency or instrumentality thereof, the Software and related documentation are deemed to be "commercial computer software" and "commercial computer software documentation", as applicable, and are licensed subject to the terms of this EULA and applicable regulations.

9. Governing Law

This EULA shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws specified in the agreement governing the Combined Product, excluding its conflict of laws principles.

10. Entire Agreement

This EULA constitutes the entire agreement between Company and End User regarding the Software and supersedes any prior or contemporaneous agreements relating thereto.
